

Blackfoot Drought Response Now Active

Flows in the Blackfoot River have fallen below 700 cfs and water temperatures are rapidly increasing.

The Blackfoot Drought Committee requests that water users begin to implement their individual drought management plans. Water users who have an accepted individual drought plan will not receive a call for water on their junior water rights from Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks.

Anglers are asked to observe voluntary fishing technique restrictions and fishing hours may be restricted if temperatures continue to rise.
