

Blackfoot Drought Response Now Active

Flows in the Blackfoot River fell below 700 cfs on August 11.

The Blackfoot Drought Committee requests that water users implement their individual drought management plans. Water users who have an accepted individual drought plan will not receive a call for water on their junior water rights from Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks while Blackfoot flows stay above 500 cfs.

Anglers are asked to observe voluntary fishing technique restrictions to reduce stress on native fish during these low stream flows.
